

Linkage is selected on certification status

The gap between the two marks is the cross-taxonomy rule: a nursing-only match is found but is not promoted into the primary midwifery cohort.

Certification statuses with at least 100 certificants. Providers who left the workforce are substantially less likely to appear, which is the study's binding limitation.